

Journey in the Wind

Authors' Note

We wanted our story to show how scary places can be when you are all alone. Connection to others is what helps us get through it. Connection is everything!

Zach, Adam, Erin, Caydence

Table of Contents

Page 1: Cover

Page 2: Author's Note

Page 3: Table of Contents

Page 4: The Balcony Garden

Page 5: The Wind Blows

Page 6: The Fall

Page 7: The Dark Place

Page 8: The Light Shines

Page 9: The Journey Home

Page 10: Home Again

Page 11: Haiku

Page 12: Butterfly Life Cycle

Chris lived on a sunny balcony with his Mama and Papa.

They spent their days munching leaves and dreaming of wings.

One breezy afternoon, Chris climbed onto a leaf to make his cocoon. But WHOOOSH!
The wind blew hard! The leaf shook and off it went!

Down

first, tumbling on the fire escape

Down

Bounced down the sidewalk

Down

Then-ploop-slipped into a dark, damp storm drain

It was cold and quiet underground. Chris didn't move. He just waited inside his cozy cocoon. "Will I ever see my family again?" he wondered.

One morning, sunlight peeked through the drain.
The cocoon started to shake...
Crack! Crack! Out came Chris, with beautiful wings!
He had become a butterfly!

Chris fluttered up toward the sunlight.

He followed the sidewalk...
flew to the fire escape...

Up

Up

Up

And finally, back to the balcony where his family waited!

“Chris!” cried his Mama and Papa.

“You’re a butterfly now!”
They fluttered and danced in the sunshine, together again.
Chris smiled.
He had found his way home.

Alone in the dark just look for connection and you will find the light

Life Cycle of a Butterfly

BUTTERFLY
IDENTIFICATION

